We are delighted to announce that one of our members of staff, Oliver Jarrett-Kerr, has been awarded Enham's 'Learner of the Month' for October 2009. This award from Enham recognises that Oliver has made a significant advance in his Numeracy and Literacy studies during his time on the learning programme.

Enham, which is a leading regional charity dedicated to service provision for disabled people working across the South of England, placed Oliver with Phillips around 7 years ago and since then has supported him with a personalised range of learning programmes.

Howard Gardener, senior partner at Phillips, comments: 'We are delighted that Oliver has been recognised for achievement in his studies, but we also recognise the valuable contribution that he has made to Phillips. We are a firm in which disabled people are valued as individuals and enabled to achieve their full potential.'

Presenting the award, Michael Steel, Enham's Partner Liaison Manager commented, 'Each month Enham recognises the outstanding learning achievement demonstrated by our clients right across the South of England. Oliver has worked extremely hard and deserves this award completely.'
